

ERT Marine Environmental consultant – job requirements

Criteria	Essential	Desirable
Professional and technical experience	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> At least 3 years experience working in marine environmental consultancy or a similar role A record of continuous professional development, supplemented by relevant training A working knowledge of environmental management and marine consultancy activities A good understanding of the marine environment and the issues affecting it Experience of working within marine environmental legislation Experience gathering and handling marine environmental data Ability to write technically and grammatically correct reports for the general public/government agencies Experience of working with the oil and gas industry 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Experience of working with renewable and non-renewable energy suppliers, the mariculture industry, government and conservation agencies, and/or other marine sectors Specialist knowledge or experience in an area of marine science Experience of carrying out environmental impact assessments Familiarity with UK and European legislation relating to the marine and coastal environment Experience writing publications for the scientific community Coastal and/or offshore environmental survey experience
Education/qualifications	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Post graduate qualification in marine science or environmental management (or related subject) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Membership of a recognised professional organisation. First aid and/or marine survival qualifications
Communication skills	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Fluent written and oral English language skills Be well presented and confident and able to represent ERT at meetings, events, etc 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Experience at presenting information at presentations/workshops Experience working directly with stakeholders (eg fishermen) Able to maintain good working relationships with clients, collaborating companies and contractors Foreign language skills
Management and IT skills	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Competence in time management and work planning Proven ability to work to demanding deadlines Proficient in Microsoft Office 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Experience in managing a range of small to medium sized projects Familiarity with marketing and business development activities. Experience in statistical packages and GIS applications
Personal qualities (flexibility and motivation)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ability to work as part of a team Self motivated Willingness to travel within the UK and abroad, and attend events/meetings out with office hours 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Full driving licence Willingness (and physical ability) to take part in both coastal and offshore environmental surveys